

I ame totality against the weakening or lifting the telephone privacy act. How would those bankers like being disruped during dinner or better yet at a board meeting?